NETWORKING AND RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

Three Key Points to remember:

1. You have a plan and objectives for your business; have one for your network.
2. It's about making connections, asking questions, listening to the answers and building relationships that are mutually beneficial
3. There are some helpful things to remember to feel more comfortable

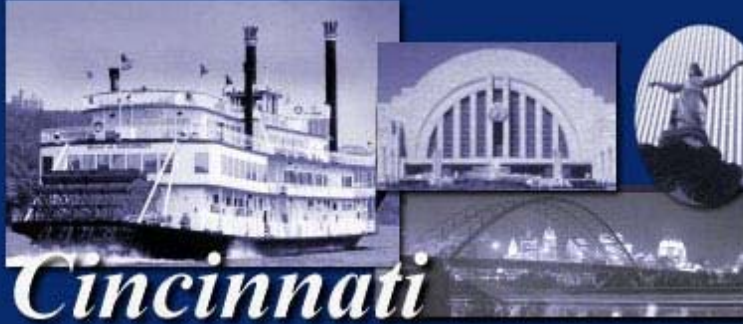

BETH MEHLBERTH, APR

Beth Mehlberth is a vice president of Edward Howard & Co, a Dayton public relations firm. Her areas of expertise are marketing, crisis and workplace communications, media relations and media spokesperson training. She has worked with such clients as the City of Dayton, Exxon Mobile, National City Bank, Rumpke, the West Carrolton School District and Wal-Mart. Beth received her B.A. in Communications from Miami University and a Masters in English and Organizational Communication from Wright State University.

Beth has been previously employed at such companies as The Icon Group, Freedman, Gibson & White, and The Dayton Heart Center.

Ms. Mehlbreth has been a Board Member of the National Conference for Community and Justice, and Cloths that Work. She has been judge and host of Dayton Business Journal 40-Under-40 Awards, active in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, and active in the Public Relations Society of America on a local, district and national level. Beth has also earned her APR, Accreditation in Public Relations.

With the change in venue for the October meeting I was reminded of the great relationship that NAPM Cincinnati has with the Vernon Manor. They are centrally located, allowing those from all corners of the city to participate with minimal travel. They do not charge us for the rooms and have a reasonable dinner cost. The Vernon Manor has worked with us for the last 10 years to accommodate our needs. Yes, there have been glitches but they have been a great partner. They have kept the meals affordable so we in turn can keep the cost down. And no, we do not make a profit on the dinner. Parking is a challenge right now but they do offer us free valet parking.

It also came to my attention that the Vernon Manor is willing to accommodate our meal requirements. Did you know that at most meetings over 10% of the meals are "special" meals? Often we know about these ahead of time but some people walk in and the Vernon Manor makes the accommodation.

Next time you might wonder why we are using the Vernon Manor; think about trying to accommodate a group of 30-50 people from across the tri-state on a monthly basis.

To see what we do, feel free to join us on at a board meeting, at the Vernon Manor, November 27, 5:30 PM.
