Supply Management Month – March 2014

March 2014 marks ISM-Cincinnati's recognition of the importance of the supply management profession!

In Cincinnati during the month of March, ISM-Cincinnati celebrates the local and worldwide importance of the supply management profession during 2014 Supply Management Month. Each March, ISM-Cincinnati joins with other supply management associations worldwide to bring attention to the influential role supply professionals bring to all business sectors. In recognition of Supply Management Month, ISM-Cincinnati will host a professional meeting to address the Supply Trends in Supply Chain Management on March 11th, 2014 along with a social networking event at Moerlein Lager House on March 27th, 2014 and the Rumpke Recycling Tour on March 20th, 2014. According to Affiliate President Mike Lecture, supply management functions play a boundary-spanning role in the organization and the marketplace. "The skills, roles and strategic activities required of today's supply professionals have a direct impact on the quality, efficiency, and profitability of small and large organizations and businesses," Lecture says. ISM-Cincinnati is comprised of more than 248 business professionals and college students who hold an interest in supply management. ISM-Cincinnati members represent a cross-section of the area's business community including not-for-profit organizations, Fortune 500 companies, university faculty, government employees, and supply management students. ISM-Cincinnati is an affiliate of the first supply management institute in the world. Members meet regularly for professional development, education, networking and career development. Centennial - Supply Trends in Supply Chain Management

PAT REIBER, Centennial Relationship Manager & Executive Recruiter, will speak to the Cincinnati Chapter of the Institute for Supply Chain Management on employment trends in the tri-state area particularly those affecting supply chain management professionals. Please come prepared with questions as this plans to be a very interactive presentation approach.

Pat strives to ALWAYS over deliver on a client's expectations, and that's the spirit that he brings to CENTENNIAL as a Relationship Manager and Executive Recruiter. His problem solving skills and years of broad experience in seeking to understand and exceed expectations have helped him make good on that promise. Pat's background in nonprofit program development and execution has taught him the value of building dynamic and multi-capable teams. Pat's approach is to gain an understanding the historical scenario of a project, as well as its current and future implications for all stakeholders. This allows him to form the foundation of consistently achieving great outcomes!

Come JOIN us for an exciting and informative evening. Networking and registration begin at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:00 p.m. and WITH the speaker to follow.

COST: Member $25 / Non-members $35

Sr.: President, chief executive officer and chairman of the board

Rumpke Recycling Facility Tour

Please join ISM-Cincinnati for a tour of the Rumpke Recycling Facility on March 20th, 2014 at 2:00 p.m. Rumpke opened one of the country's largest recycling facilities in November 13th, 2013 after a fire at the plant last year destroyed the previous facility. It's the company's biggest, fastest, and most technologically advanced recycling center to date. Rumpke did it bigger AND better, investing $32 million into the project on Vine Street.

In April 2012, the fire did so much damage that Rumpke had to tear down the previous facility and start again. Rumpke broke ground in December 2012 and opened the new facility in November 2013. The building houses one of the most technologically advanced sorting systems available. Jeff Rumpke says "It's a 100,000 square foot facility able to process one million pounds of recyclables a day, so we're doing about 55 tons an hour. We need more of that material to come into the plant, we're ready to handle it and we want to service the community." Rumpke officials toured nine other facilities across the country to get the best ideas and they say they've implemented them. Rumpke says the center will serve more than 4.5 million residents in Cincinnati and surrounding areas.
